

SDG&E Energy Efficiency Programs - 2022

SDG&E's Energy Efficiency non-residential programs – what's new for 2022?

Product catalogs for rebates and incentives have been updated for 2022; however, new third-party programs will come online in the latter months of 2022. These new programs will provide agricultural and public sector customers with a complete energy efficiency solution to address their needs. As a result, SDG&E Energy Efficiency non-residential programs are closing this year for these customer sectors. Program closure dates are subject to change pending SDG&E EE solicitation schedules. Please continue to check online for each program's application deadlines and program closure dates.
